ASNSW Endorsed as HUET Instructors

Friday 22nd October 2010

Lifeguarding Services Australia and the Hunter Region Rescue Helicopter Service conducted the first HUET Instructors workshop for the Ambulance Service of New South Wales.

Today, saw the first Helicopter Underwater Escape Training Instructor Workshops conducted at Revesby Swimming Pool In Sydney. Members of the ASNSW Special casualty Access Team (SCAT) attended the workshop which was facilitated by Stan Wall (Chief Executive Officer and Senior Training Officer) from LSA and Peter Cummings (Crew Chief) from the Hunter Region Rescue Helicopter Service.

In an interview, Lifeguarding Services Australia CEO Stan Wall said "This workshop brings forth the clinical educators and SCAT Training Officers to expand their aero medical training skills to include HUET to their list of available AQTF courses currently delivered by the ASNSW. This course could not off been possible without the technical expertise of the flight crew of the Hunter Region Rescue Helicopter Service."

This program is one of many being developed in partnership with the Hunter Region Rescue Helicopter Service, over the past twelve months LSA and the Helicopter Rescue Service has developed flight medical, HUET, workplace training and specific Air Crewman and Rescue crewman courses.
